

EXPERIENCE

The Washington Post

Interactive Audio Producer | April 2017 - Nov. 2018 in Washington, D.C.

- Launched, produced and promoted three daily smart speaker flash briefings (The Daily 202's Big Idea, Capital Weather Gang, and Retropod). Created workflows for the stakeholders of each flash briefing to ensure sustainability.
- Worked with the product team to navigate the smart speaker landscape.
- Collaborated with product and newsroom teams on audio stories that exist online and on other platforms.
- Coached print reporters on the foundations of voicing and scriptwriting.

West Virginia Public Broadcasting

Reporter | June 2016 - April 2017 in Morgantown, WV

- Produced and reported spots and features for the radio and podcasts.
- Covered the June 2016 flood disaster and the 2016 statewide elections.
- Stylized static charts to improve digital branding and engagement. Managed @wvpublicnews on Twitter.

Northwestern University Knight Lab

Undergraduate Fellow | Sept. 2014 - June 2016 in Evanston, IL

- Built the front end for MusicRecs, a music recommendation system.
- Taught students coding and data journalism skills through Open Lab Hours and by giving lightning talks.
- Contributed to the Lab's audio, editorial, and social media content.
- Represented the Lab at the 2015 Mozilla Festival by leading a session on data ethics called "No Good Number Goes Unpunished."

FiveThirtyEight

Politics Data Intern | Jan. 2016 - March 2016 in New York, NY

- Collected and analyzed data to build visualizations pertaining to the presidential elections.
- Contributed commentary to election live blogs.
- Pitched and reported stories.
- Appeared on an episode of the podcast FiveThirtyEight Elections.

NPR

Editorial Assistant for NPR One | Dec. 2015 in Washington, D.C.

- Assisted in the curation of podcasts and the daily upkeep of NPR's public radio news, stories and podcast streaming app.

Intern for Here & Now, News Desk | Sept. 2015 - Dec. 2015 in Washington, D.C.

- Assisted in the daily production of Here & Now segments, ran the board for live and pre-taped interviews.
- Pitched, produced, and wrote stories.
- Conducted research for the All Things Considered series on the United Nations climate change summit in Paris.

EDUCATION

Northwestern University

Medill School of Journalism | Graduated June 2016 in Evanston, IL

Bachelor of Science in Journalism with a minor in Chinese Language and Culture